The table structure represents a log entry with the following columns:

| user ID | Number of Accesses | Time Stamp | Number of Clicks/ downloads | IP address | e-mail address |
|---------|--------------------|------------|--------------------------------|------------|----------------|

Below the table, six numbers (42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52) are aligned under each column header, with vertical arrows pointing upwards from each number to its corresponding table header. A separate arrow points from the number 40 to the first column header.
